Dear Ontario Real Estate Association:

Thank you for writing to me and for sharing your concerns on housing affordability in Ontario.

After having met with countless individuals and families from all across the province it has become abundantly clear to me that many Ontarians feel as though they have been left behind. They truly believe that they will never have the opportunity to own a home and that is simply unacceptable.

I believe in an Ontario where the dream of home ownership shouldn't be out of reach for the average family that works hard and spends wisely.

As you know, the PC Party has a long history of challenging the Wynne Liberals when it comes to their disastrous housing policies. In fact, in the last parliament the PC Caucus championed the establishment of a special panel to consider and report on recommendations on how to improve housing affordability and supply throughout the province. It is an issue that our party has advocated for and cares deeply about.

In the coming weeks our team will be releasing our platform containing further details of policies and priorities that will create a clear vision for a prosperous Ontario.

Thank you again for writing to me on such an important issue and please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any further concerns.

Sincerely,

Doug Ford
Leader, Ontario PC Party
